

Greek Group Lessons

Level B1

PREREQUISITE

The student must have the ability to understand formal or informal, friendly language, of limited duration, with simple structures and with the information given clearly and logically, not too complicated, in situations in the present time with only a very few people & events, , and must be able to understand high-frequency phrases and vocabulary associated with direct personal experiences (family, shopping, professional life, entertainment, etc.).

He/she should be able to understand his / her interlocutor in telephone conversations and be able to understand the general meaning and the main points in a simple conversation between two native or non-native speakers using the Greek language on issues relevant to the candidate's experiences.

He also should be able to understand the meaning of ordinary small talk, and slow but natural forms of speech, such as simple public announcements (in the media, or at the airport, or a bus or train station, shops etc.), telephone information (about time, cinemas, theaters, hospitals, etc.), weather reports on the TV, instructions given by government officials (police, traffic, customs, etc.), descriptions of events, people, etc. The student should always be able to ask for repetition of what was said to him/her if she/he cannot understand.

If you are not sure what your level is, please email us to arrange an online meeting to evaluate your correct level so that we can put you in the right group. Here is our email: info@theonlinegreek tutor.com

This schedule is just a plan. It does not mean that we will cover everything or we will not cover anything else that might interest our students. A group lesson is very dynamic and the pace of the lessons and the exact topics we will cover depends on the students.
